

International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination

Celebrating Students Who Make a Difference
2018

Brooklynn Pegg

Silver Birches Public School

Brooklynn is a kind and caring individual at Silver Birches. She frequently uses her recesses to help out in our kindergarten classrooms, as well as in our 2 special education classrooms. She plays with them, reads with them, and helps them complete their daily tasks such as eating lunch. While in one of these classrooms, she shared a book she had written about why it's important to include students with Autism and why these children make great friends.

Brooklynn is always inclusive in her groupings and willingly works with all students, regardless of their abilities. She is a good mentor to younger students and regularly meets with a grade two girl to help her with her reading.

Overall, she is a great example of empathy and inclusion, and is a wonderful role model for the rest of her classmates.

Congratulations on your success, Brooklynn!

PROJECT PARTNERS:

