

International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination

*Celebrating Students Who Make a Difference
2018*

Carissa Robinson

Sunset Park Public School

On a daily basis, Carissa is a positive member of our school community. Working collaboratively with all members of her class, Carissa shows empathy, patience and kindness to everyone. She is always willing to work or play with any of her peers.

In the larger community, Carissa also initiates giving back. When she was in grade one, she heard about people who would donate their long hair to organizations who would then make wigs for cancer patients. At that moment, she knew this was something that she could do to help make a difference. She has since grown her hair out twice and made two donations of her long hair in order for another child to feel happy and confident once more.

Carissa exhibits compassion and a caring demeanor, in her school and in her community at large. She is deserving of a "time to shine" and to be recognized for her caring and considerate gestures that have been offered to others.

Congratulations on your success, Carissa!

PROJECT PARTNERS:

